

100+ Viral Hooks For Musicians

Creating hooks that capture attention in the first few seconds of a social video is crucial for virality, especially on platforms like TikTok, Instagram, and YouTube. Here are some effective hook templates you can use to start your videos to maximize engagement and potential virality:

1. Controversial Hooks: These hooks challenge established norms or opinions and can provoke strong reactions from viewers. Examples include statements like "This should be illegal..." or questioning widely accepted practices with hooks like "It's going to be controversial, but..."
2. Promise Hooks: These hooks are based on offering immediate value or insight, such as "The secret to..." or setting up an intriguing premise with "How did I achieve [something impressive] in just [a short time]?"
3. Direct Address Hooks: Engaging directly with your audience can be very effective. Phrases like "If you love [interest], stop scrolling!" or "You don't want to miss this!" directly address the viewer and create a pause in their scrolling.
4. Experience-Based Hooks: Drawing on personal experiences or experiments can be very engaging. For example, "I tried every [method] so you don't have to" or sharing unexpected outcomes from common scenarios like "Here's what happens when..."
5. Curiosity and Teaser Hooks: Hooks that provoke curiosity can keep the viewer hooked for more information. Phrases like "Did you know that...?" or "Here's a simple hack to..." are perfect for piquing interest and promising a quick payoff of useful information or entertainment.

Here are some easy ones to pull and use yourself:

1. Ask a compelling question:
"Ever wondered why we XXXX?"
2. Make a surprising statement:
"This is why you should never XXXXX!"
3. Show an intriguing visual:
Start with a close-up of something unexpected or unusual.
4. Promise a story:
"Let me tell you about the time I accidentally XXXX."
5. Challenge common knowledge:
"Here's why everything you know about XXXX is wrong!"
6. Create a mystery:
"Guess what happens when you mix XXXX and XXXX?"
7. Show the end result first:
"Want to see how I turned this XXXX into a XXXX? Watch this!"
8. Use humor:
Start with a funny one-liner or situation.
9. Quote a shocking statistic:
"Did you know that 90% of XXXX do this wrong every XXXX?"
10. Leverage trending sounds or challenges:
Use a popular sound or challenge to immediately relate to current trends.
11. Address the viewer directly:
"Yes, I'm talking to you. Do you do this every day?"
12. Start with a mistake:
"I tried XXXX so you don't have to. Here's what happened."
13. Invoke curiosity:
"You won't believe what I found in my attic yesterday."
14. Promise a transformation:
"Watch how I transform this outfit from basic to stunning in three steps."
15. Tease an emotional payoff:
"This story made me cry."
16. Start in the middle of the action:
No buildup, just straight to the action.

17. Flash something luxurious or exclusive:
"Check out this glimpse of the most XXXX in the world."
18. Invoke fear or warning:
"Stop doing this right now."
19. Use a powerful quote:
"As Steve Jobs once said, 'Stay hungry, stay foolish.' Let's explore what this means."
20. Make a bold prediction:
"I predict that in the next year, this will change everything about how we XXXX."
21. Announce a giveaway:
"Watch till the end to find out how you can win a new XXXX!"
22. Start with a fail:
"I tried this viral hack, and here's the epic fail that happened."
23. Pose a dilemma:
"Which would you choose: a XXXX, or XXXX?"
24. Flashback to a nostalgic moment:
"Remember this song from the 90s? Here's my version."
25. Switch up the feel of a song:
"If the Spongebob intro song was an R&B song."
26. Promise a secret reveal:
"By the end of this video, you'll know the secret to XXXX."
27. Show an extreme emotion:
Start with laughter, tears, or an expression of awe.
28. Use a prop or costume:
Start with an unusual or thematic prop that grabs attention.
29. Start with a bizarre fact:
"Did you know there's XXXX?"
30. Use the power of 'imagine':
"Imagine if you could travel anywhere, anytime without leaving your home."
31. Contrast before and after:
"This was me ten years ago, and this is me now."

32. Do something unexpected:
"Watch me turn this XXXX into XXXX."
33. Start with a major mistake:
"I made a major mistake."
34. Use a slice of life:
"Here's a typical morning in New York City as a XXXX artist."
35. Create urgency:
"You need to hear this NOW before i delete this video."
36. Tease an unbelievable moment:
"You won't believe what happened next!"
"I can't believe I did THAT."
37. Mention a famous name:
"Here's what Dolly Parton does every morning."
38. Highlight a rare event:
"This happens once in a blue moon. Watch it live now!"
39. Use the element of surprise:
"Guess what this XXXX actually is?"
40. Ask for the audience's opinion:
"Which option would you pick? Comment below."
41. Start with a confession:
"I have a confession to make..."
42. Preview the journey:
"Join me on a journey where we explore the hidden side of Tokyo."
43. Show a quick DIY:
"In 60 seconds, I'll show you how to XXXX."
44. Present a philosophical question:
"What if money was no object? What kind of music would you make?"
45. Feature a guest:
"I'm here with a celebrity guest to discuss something unbelievable."
46. Ask a compelling question:
"Ever wondered how a song is born from just a single note?"

47. Make a surprising statement:
"This is why I only write songs at 3 AM!"
48. Show an intriguing visual:
"Check out this ancient instrument I found in a flea market."
49. Promise a story:
"Let me tell you about the time I wrote a song that accidentally became a hit."
50. Challenge common knowledge:
"Here's why the key of C isn't always the easiest for songwriting."
51. Create a mystery:
"Guess which famous artist inspired my latest track?"
52. Show the end result first:
"Want to see how a song changes from the demo to the final mix? Watch this!"
53. Use humor:
"This is how my face looks when I hit the wrong note during a live performance."
54. Leverage trending sounds or challenges:
"I put my own spin on this trending sound—check it out and duet!"
55. Address the viewer directly:
"Yes, I'm talking to you. Have you ever felt this way about a song?"
56. Start with a mistake:
"I tried to cover a viral song and completely messed up. Here's what happened."
57. Invoke curiosity:
"You won't believe what I use as a microphone when I'm on the road."
58. Promise a transformation:
"Watch how I take a classic track and remix it into something modern."
59. Give a controversial opinion:
"Auto-tune ruins music. Change my mind!"
60. Tease an emotional payoff:
"This song made my producer cry."
61. Start in the middle of the action:
"Straight into the solo"
62. Flash something luxurious or exclusive:
"Check out this backstage tour of my concert."

63. Make a bold prediction:
"In the next year, this will change everything in the music industry."
64. Announce a giveaway:
"Watch till the end to find out how you can win a signed album!"
65. Flashback to a nostalgic moment:
"Remember when I played my first gig? Let's go back."
66. Show a drastic comparison:
"Acoustic vs. Electric: Which version of my song do you prefer?"
67. Promise a secret reveal:
"I'll tell you the secret chord that makes all my songs pop."
68. Show an extreme emotion:
"This is how excited I get when I write a new song."
69. Announce breaking news:
"Big news about my next album drop!"
70. Use a prop or costume:
"Wearing my lucky hat that I always record in."
71. Start with a bizarre fact:
"Did you know that Mozart wrote over 600 pieces of music?"
72. Offer a life hack:
"Here's how to fix a broken string in the middle of a show."
73. Use the power of 'imagine':
"Imagine performing to a crowd of a million people."
74. Contrast before and after:
"Before and after mastering—listen to the difference!"
75. Do something unexpected:
"Watch me turn this random object into an instrument."
76. Invoke the audience's aspirations:
"Dream of being on stage? This is how you start."
77. Start with a major mistake:
"I forgot the words to my own song during a live concert."
78. Use a slice of life:
"A day in the life on tour. It's not as glamorous as you think!"

79. Share a personal story:
"Here's something I've never shared with anyone."
80. Highlight an innovation:
"This gadget will change the way you live."
81. Make an exclusive announcement:
"You heard it here first..."
82. Start with a contest:
"Guess the right answer and win a prize!"
83. Invoke nostalgia:
"Who else misses Saturday morning cartoons?"
84. Promise a tour:
"Let's take a tour of the most haunted places in New Orleans."
85. Show a transformation:
"Watch this room get a makeover in less than two minutes."
86. Offer a list:
"Top 5 mistakes every beginner makes."
87. Challenge the audience:
"Bet you can't watch this without laughing."
88. Begin with the unusual:
"This is the strangest thing you'll see all day."
89. Tease a hack:
"This hack will save you hours each week."
90. Start with a game:
"Let's play a game—truth or dare?"
91. Reveal a before and after:
"You won't believe the before and after photos of this renovation."
92. Present a quick tutorial:
"Here's how to get the perfect winged eyeliner in one try."
93. Highlight a discovery:
"We just found something in our backyard that might be ancient."
94. Make an emotional appeal:
"Help us reach our goal to help puppies in need."

95. Discuss a taboo:
"Today, we're talking about something most people avoid discussing."
96. Offer a myth vs. reality:
"Myth or reality? Let's find out if you really need 8 glasses of water a day."
97. Propose a solution:
"Here's a quick fix for your everyday problem."
98. Use slow motion:
"Watch this amazing slow-mo of a lightning strike."
99. Provide a warning:
"Don't ever do this at home—watch to find out why."
100. Show an instant fail:
"I tried this so you don't have to—fail alert!"
101. Reveal a magic trick:
"I'm about to show you a magic trick you can do at home."
102. Start with a vote:
"Vote right now—should I dye my hair pink or blue?"
103. Highlight a misunderstanding:
"Here's a common mistake everyone makes about..."
104. Introduce a series:
"This is episode one of my journey to learn..."
105. Ask for a challenge:
"Challenge me! What do you want to see me do?"
106. Reveal a surprise:
"I have a big surprise for you guys..."
107. Invoke exclusivity:
"I'm giving my followers early access to..."
108. Discuss a trend:
"Let's break down this trend that's everywhere right now."
109. Highlight an accomplishment:
"We did it! Let's celebrate together."
110. Present a comparison:
"Which is better? We tested them both."

111. Offer a behind-the-scenes look:
"Here's what it's like behind the scenes of a TV show."
112. Make a claim:
"I claim this is the best burger in New York."
113. Show an experiment:
"We're experimenting to see what makes soda explode."
114. Start with a secret:
"I'm going to share a secret with you..."
115. Make a big reveal:
"You've been asking, and here it is..."
116. Tease a collaboration:
"Something big is coming with a special guest."
117. Conduct a social experiment:
"We conducted a social experiment, and here's what we found."
118. Show a rare item:
"This is one of the rarest coins in the world."
119. Announce a journey:
"Join me as I embark on a 30-day fitness challenge."
120. Use a popular meme:
"Start with a meme that's trending and relate it to your content."
121. Highlight an oddity:
"This is the oddest food combination ever, but it works!"
122. Invoke the senses:
"Imagine the smell of fresh rain on dry soil."
123. Start with a cliffhanger:
"You won't believe what happened next..."
124. Show a hidden talent:
"Here's a talent I've never shown before."
125. Ask for a guess:
"Guess where I am, and I'll reveal it at the end."
126. Begin with a joke:
"Why did the smartphone go to school? Watch to find out!"

127. Present a personal challenge:
"I'm facing my biggest fear today..."
128. 5 songs you need in your playlist
129. if you've ever been trapped in a toxic relationship then i made this song for you.
130. I made a song to help get over that toxic ex
131. nothing listens to XXXX music anymore, so i decided to make this song.
132. Have you ever felt like XX? Well i made this song just for that.
133. Have you ever been so in love nothing else mattered?
134. What if i told you I made this song...
135. Send this song to your XXXX if you XXXX
136. Who is the first person you think of when you hear this song?